“The idea of creating an infrastructure that would be the perfect platform, to share knowledge with generations to come in a wholistic manner, floated in and out of our minds for a while. However, we were not ready to commence the journey until we had the right ingredients that would give students a futuristic, enjoyable and complete experience.

The television industry itself is about Rs.60,000 crore, not to mention the other media platforms where a huge amount of investment is also happening.
